Joy Global to highlight Montabert, crushing & conveying at Bauma

Nearly one year after acquiring Montabert S.A.S from Doosan Holding France S.A.S., Joy Global will highlight the brand's market-leading products alongside its crushing and conveying line at Bauma 2016.

Through the June 2015 acquisition, Joy Global now offers market-leading Montabert rock drills and breakers renowned for their high performance and low operating cost. Montabert continues to develop industry-leading technology and products, with the support of Joy Global's worldwide network.

"Montabert's rock drill products and rock breakers complement our expanded offerings for the hard rock market, an exciting growth area for Joy Global," Joy Global CEO and President Ted Doheny said at the time of the acquisition.

U.S.-based Joy Global also plans to highlight its Joy crushing and conveying solutions, which serve the ports, power, surface aggregates, tunnelling, construction and mining industries. Products include: belt conveyors (including components and accessories), hydraulic hammers, drilling equipment and systems, and pneumatic hammers.

Visit Booth 715/4, April 11-17, to see everything Joy Global has to offer.

Joy Global also manufactures, sells and services other brands of solutions to help make customer operations safer and more productive, including: Joy underground and hard rock mining equipment and systems, and P&H surface mining equipment. The company is listed on the New York Stock Exchange and has facilities in 20 countries.
